Chatsworth, GA – Murray County Commissioner Brittany Pittman is encouraging all local residents to take advantage of the 16th Annual Amnesty Day at the Murray County Landfill April 20th.

Unlike regular Saturdays, the landfill will extend its hours from 7 a.m. until 4 p.m. in order to give Murray County residents extra time to collect and dispose of trash and debris around their homes and neighborhoods at no cost.

“Spring is here and the annual Amnesty Day gives Murray County residents the perfect opportunity to clean up their homes, their neighborhoods and their community,” Pittman said. “We appreciated Santek personnel extending the hours of operation at the Landfill, and providing us a day of free waste disposal.”

The event is limited to Murray County homeowners. No commercial or agri-business waste will be accepted. Residents can also dispose of up to 10 regular car tires free of charge as part of the event.

Last year, more than 750 residents disposed of 300 tons of waste including 125 gallons of oil, 2,366 vehicle tires, more than two tons of scrap metal, and almost eight tons of brush and yard waste. Based on the Landfill’s standard gate rate, residents disposed of more than $10,500 of waste for free.

“One of my long-term goals as Commissioner is to beautify Murray County,” Pittman said. “We live in a gorgeous area of the country and we should be good stewards of our environment. Amnesty Day gives every resident the opportunity to demonstrate pride in their community by cleaning it up.”

Landfill Superintendent Chris Johnson said Santek personnel will be on hand to help residents with any special disposal needs. He said Amnesty Day is a hectic-but rewarding day.

“We just ask residents to be patient as traffic can be heavy at times,” Johnson said. “We’ll do our best to get everyone in and out of the Landfill in a safe and quick manner.”
